

Martin Burnham Mission Center

Making room for more missionaries reaching tribes in the Philippines

The rescue of NTM missionary Gracia Burnham from Philippine guerrillas, and the death of her husband, Martin, has dramatically increased interest in taking the Gospel to unreached people groups in the Philippines. Sixty-nine new missionaries have joined NTM Philippines and the mission's center of operations must expand to adequately support the 171 missionaries now on the team.

The five-story Martin Burnham Mission Center will provide a place where NTM missionaries can attend translation/church planting workshops and conferences, or convalesce, rest and refresh. The center will also provide much needed additional office space.

Total cost: $433,000

Strategic

More than five million tribal people in the Philippines have no access to the Gospel. NTM has recently identified 50 tribal groups, some with hundreds of thousands of people, who are still unreached. With your financial partnership in the Martin Burnham Mission Center, these people will have an opportunity to hear what Jesus has done for them.
