

Mechanic's Workshop

A workshop for mechanics is needed to do repair work in a closed environment.

Building a workshop for repairing generators, pumps, vehicles and other mechanical items.

Problem This tropical region produces weather that often includes either 100-degree heat or monsoon rains. These extremes place a lot of stress on mechanical items such as generators, pumps and vehicles, and makes outside repairs of these items almost impossible.

Solution A workshop, complete with drive-in bays, engine hoist, facilities for welding, metal fabrication and small engine repair, would allow for indoor repair and fabrication.

Benefit Your participation in this project will help expand the reach of the Gospel because it will allow support personnel to help tribal missionaries more efficiently, freeing these missionaries for ministry.

Total Cost $9,000
